

Homemade Haircuts Splashes Onto Indie Scene with New EP

The lively indie rock band announces beach-themed project releasing August 23rd

Columbia, South Carolina - Summer seemed to feel different when we were younger. Adventures, relaxation, romance... The season was always filled with excitement and new opportunities.

Amidst the everyday challenges of adult life, one may wish there was a way to return to those simpler times. "Homemade Haircuts Goes Swimming," the latest release by South Carolina-based indie rock band Homemade Haircuts, provides exactly that.

A nostalgic tale of lovers longing to make sense of a summer romance, "Homemade Haircuts Goes Swimming" packs catchy melodies, smooth riffs, and memorable lyricism into a powerful, live-tracked indie rock experience.

The 5-track project was produced by Scoops Dardaris at Philadelphia's Headroom Studios, where bands such as Modern Baseball, Alex G, and Boyscott have laid down records. The EP is scheduled to release on August 23rd.

Formed in 2018 by Bob Magee and Evan Delp, Homemade Haircuts found roots in ambient, catchy bedroom pop. The band has since blossomed into a vigorous four-piece, matching memorable crowd engagement with impressive musicianship that leaves audiences feeling hopeful, motivated, and inspired.

To listen, contact, or learn more, visit <https://www.homiehaircuts.com/>

Spotify: Homemade Haircuts | Spotify

Apple Music: Homemade Haircuts - Apple Music

"From the opening notes of Sun Showers, the first full-length effort from the rapidly evolving indie-everything troupe Homemade Haircuts, there's an unmistakable statement of creative intent. Throttling guitar chords and a dynamic drum fill set the stage for rippling melodic lead guitar lines and reverb-drenched sun-kissed vocals that yank the laid-back bedroom pop of the group's previous efforts into the rock show." - Kyle Peterson, Charleston City Paper